

Vocabulary
pollution (noun)	Anything that is introduced into a habitat which has a harmful effect on the plants and animals living there pesticides (noun)	A substance used to destroy pests such as small animals, weeds and insects fertiliser (noun)	A substance which helps to make plants grow sewage (noun)	Waste water and excrement conveyed in sewers conserve (verb)	To protect something from harm or destruction contaminate (noun)	To make something impure by putting poison or pollution into it substances (noun)	A particular kind of matter with uniform properties (gas, solid, liquid)
marine (adjective)	Relating to or found in the sea

Learning Question:
What is water pollution and how can we help?

Activist Study:
Afroz Shah

Water Pollution

Water pollution refers to the contamination of bodies of water such as rivers, lakes, oceans, and groundwater, which leaves it unfit for human use and consumption. Water pollution can be caused by a variety of substances, including insoluble and soluble materials as well as living organisms.

